Warwick Marsh, the presenter of the fatherhood success seminar has been married to Alison since 1975. They have five children and three grandchildren. Together they founded the Dads4Kids Fatherhood Foundation in 2002 with a goal to encourage excellence in fathering and in 2004 established the National Marriage Coalition to support and strengthen Australian marriages.

Warwick is also the founder of Australian Heart Ministries and is the convenor for the National Prayer Council and active on the board of several other community based charities. Warwick's background is in the building construction industry but for the last two decades has been serving in the community.

Warwick is a public speaker, writer, minister, musician and TV producer. In 1998 Warwick received the FOL Fatherhood of the Year Award and in 2001 was awarded a centenary medal by the Governor General for service to musical leadership for youth and the Aboriginal community, both in Australia and his missions work overseas.
